Estate Planning
Consent to Joint Representation

Date: _____

When representing a married couple in an estate planning situation, we assume that the representation is joint and that all information given by either spouse may be freely shared among the three of us. We ask that each of you confirm his or her understanding of our sharing this information by signing this Consent to Joint Representation document below. If either of you prefers that the representation be regarded as separate, with the result that the confidences imparted by each spouse separately will not be communicated to the other, please let us know as soon as possible so that we might all come to an agreement as to the effect of this decision.
