Durable Power of Attorney

In North Carolina, you can sign a Durable Power of Attorney to appoint someone to handle your assets if you become incapacitated.

Do you currently have a Power-of-Attorney?	Yes	No (check one)
Would you like to have a Power of Attorney? (or updated)	Yes	No (check one)

To only make gifts of your property to your descendants (if any):	Yes	No (check one)

Power to Appoint a Substitute:

This provision allows your attorney-in-fact to name a substitute if he or she cannot serve. Without this provision, your power of attorney may lapse (fail) because the people you have named are unable or unwilling to serve.

Do you want to give your attorney-in-fact the power to appoint someone else to serve as your attorney in fact? Yes No (check one)

Recommendation of Guardian:

Your durable power of attorney makes it unnecessary to have a guardianship proceeding brought against you. However, it does not prevent someone from petitioning the court to have you declared incompetent. In your durable power of attorney, you may nominate someone to serve as your guardian if a court finds you legally incompetent. This is an important right because a court-appointed guardian has the right to revoke your power of attorney or to name someone else as your attorney-in-fact. If you want some control over who takes care of your property, you may want to recommend a guardian. A "guardian of the estate" takes care of your property. He or she must be a resident of North Carolina.

Who would you like to be the guardian of your estate under your Durable Power of Attorney? (choose one)

I wish my guardian to be the same as my agent under my Durable Power of Attorney.

I wish to discuss this with you during our initial consultation.

The requirement that your guardian legally provide a bond or security is usually waived.

Do you want your guardian to serve without bond or security? Yes No (check one)

Effective Date:

Your Durable Power of Attorney may be effective 1) immediately or 2) only if you become incapacitated or mentally incompetent. If it is effective immediately, your attorney-in-fact may perform any of the actions authorized by the power of attorney. If you do not wish to give your attorney-in-fact these powers immediately, you may want to make it effective only if you become incapacitated or mentally incompetent.

If you chose to make your Durable Power of Attorney effective only if you become incapacitated or mentally incompetent, you may specify who makes this determination. For example, you may specify that your durable power of attorney is effective only after one or more doctors have stated in writing that you are unable to handle your personal and/or financial affairs because of physical incapacity, mental incompetence, or diminished capacity.

If your Durable Power of Attorney does not specify who makes this determination, your durable power of attorney is effective when your attorney-in-fact states in a sworn affidavit that you are incapacitated or mentally incompetent. Thus, your attorney-in-fact determines when your Durable Power of Attorney is effective.

When do you want your Durable Power of Attorney to be effective? (choose one)

I wish for my Durable Power of Attorney to be effective immediately.

I wish for my Durable Power of Attorney to be effective only if I become incapacitated or mentally incompetent, as determined by my attorney-in-fact.

I wish for my Durable Power of Attorney to be effective only if I become incapacitated or mentally incompetent, as determined by:

Inventories and Accountings:

If you become incapacitated or mentally incompetent, your attorney-in-fact must keep full and accurate records of anything he or she does on your behalf. Your attorney-in-fact must file inventories and accountings with the clerk of the superior court unless you specifically waive this requirement. This requirement is usually waived.

Do you want your attorney-in-fact to file inventories and accountings with the clerk of the superior court? Yes No (check one)

If you have any other concerns, please describe in the Additional Information section. (end of form)

Health Care Power of Attorney

You can also appoint a Health Care Power of Attorney to make health care decisions for you when you are unable to do so yourself. This person can provide informed consent for treatment, or even refuse treatment for you.

Do you currently have a Health Care Agent?	Yes	No (check one)
Would you like to have a Health Care Agent? (or updated)	Yes	No (check one)

Designation of Doctor:

Your health care power of attorney is effective when a doctor states in writing that you lack sufficient understanding or capacity to make or communicate health care decisions. You may name the doctor (or doctors) you want to make this determination. If the doctor you name is unavailable of if you choose not to name a doctor, the doctor taking care of you may determine when your health care power of attorney is effective.

Do you want to specify a doctor to determine when your Health Care Power of Attorney should become effective?

Powers Granted to a Health Care Agent:

A health care power of attorney gives your health care agent broad powers to make health care decisions for you, including the power to consent to your doctor not giving treatment or stopping treatment necessary to keep you alive. This power exists only when you cannot give informed consent for your medical care.

Appointing someone as your health care agent does not impose a duty on your health care agent to exercise granted powers. However, when your health care agent exercises a power, he or she must act in your best interests following the directions in your health care power of attorney. Because the powers granted by a health care power of attorney are broad and sweeping, you should discuss your wishes concerning life-sustaining procedures with your health care agent.

You may give your health care agent the power to authorize an autopsy, dispose of your remains, or donate your organs or any other part of your body for medical purposes. However, your health care power of attorney is revoked at your death, so your health care agent must exercise these rights while you are still alive. Also, if you remain competent up to the time of your death, your agent may not have an opportunity to exercise these powers. If you want to make sure that your after-death choices are respected, you must do more than give these powers to your health care agent. Ask your attorney for details. If you wish to give your health are agent these powers, please mark the appropriate line.

Can your Health Care Agent:

Authorize an autopsy?	Yes	No (check one)
Donate your organs?	Yes	No (check one)
Make a disposition of all or any part of your body for medical purposes?	Yes	No (check one)
Direct the disposition of your remains?	Yes	No (check one)

Funeral Arrangements:

If you want your health care agent to handle funeral arrangements, please describe any special requests about funeral, burial, cremation, or memorial arrangements:

For any other details, please describe in the Additional Information section. (end of form)

Living Will

A Living Will is a document whereby an individual sets forth his or wishes in case of terminal illness or persistent unconsciousness where the individual, also, is no longer capable of participating in his or her health care decisions.

Do you currently have a Living Will?	Yes	No (check one)
Would you like to have a Living Will? (or updated)	Yes	No (check one)

When you sign your living will, you will be required to initial some choices. To help you make those choices, please read the following definitions, and answer the following questions:

- Extraordinary Means includes any medical procedure that artificially postpones the moment of death by supporting or replacing a vital bodily function.
- Artificial Nutrition or Hydration describes the use of feeding tubes or other invasive means to give someone food or water.
- Persistent Vegetative State means that you have had a complete loss of self-aware cognition and you will die soon without the use of extraordinary means or artificial nutrition or hydration.

Do you want to be kept alive by extraordinary means if you are terminally and incurably ill?	Yes	No (check one)
